

EAT YOUR WAY THROUGH NEW YEAR'S IN VEGAS

LAST SUPPERS, FIRST BRUNCHES AND BUTTER-POACHED LOBSTER WITH TRUFFLES

The Barrymore inside the Royal House in Las Vegas on Tuesday, Jan. 17, 2012.

Photo: Leila Navid

Sarah Feldberg

Tue, Dec 24, 2013 (midnight)

Starting a new year is rough enough without a raging hangover wreaking havoc on your head and bowels. Self medicate with what your body needs: a fabulous dinner to kick off the night, then bacon, Benedicts and a little hair of the dog come sunrise. It's not really 2014 until you've brunched yourself into a food coma, anyway.

NYE 2013 Guide

NYE 2013 Las Vegas Party Guide

New Year's Eve Party Guide: Downtown Las Vegas edition!

Eat your way through New Year's in Vegas

Go brut: Three Champagnes to pour this NYE

NEW YEAR'S DAY BRUNCH

Citizens Kitchen Mandalay Bay's 24-hour eatery welcomes January with an à la carte spread featuring dishes like chicken and waffles (that's a bacon and cheddar waffle with fried chicken and jalapeño maple syrup) and crème brulee French toast. Tack on unlimited mimosas or Bloodies for $25 if you're not quite ready to call it a night. Mandalay Bay, 632-7405.