Fortification for foodies

Stave off that hangover with these New Year's dinner and breakfast highlights

→ Starting a new year is rough enough without a raging hangover wreaking havoc on your head and bowels. Self-medicate with what your body needs: a fabulous dinner to kick off the night, then bacon, Benedicts and a little hair of the dog come sunrise. It's not really 2014 until you've brunch'd yourself into a food coma, anyway.

NEW YEAR'S EVE DINNER

HONEY SALT

The northwest fave goes retro with a five-course Great Gatsby-themed dinner that starts with a seafood platter and closes with New Year's First Kiss, pistachio crispy rice and coffee bouchons. Add bottomless bubbly for $39, and dress like Baz Luhrmann's watching. You can't welcome 2014 looking like a schlub. Seatings at 8:30, 9, 9:30 & 10 p.m., $99. 1031 S. Rampart Blvd., 445-6100.

ANDREA'S

If there's a night for vibe dining, this is it, and Andrea's chef Joseph Elevado is bringing his A-game for a seven-course prix fixe featuring Champagne-marinated Thai snapper with Ostra caviar, butter-poached lobster with Perigord truffles and Wagyu tamarind short ribs. Seatings at 9 & 9:30 p.m., $250. Encore, 770-3463.

THE BARRYMORE

Surf and turf. King crab. Quail and foie gras ravioli. Say goodbye to 2013 with a decadent meal that you'll remember well past midnight, and hit the lounge before you leave to hear singer Nieve Malandra do her thing. 5-10 p.m., $95, optional wine pairing $28. Royal Resort, 407-5303.

NEW YEAR'S DAY BRUNCH CITIZENS KITCHEN

Mandalay Bay's 24-hour eatery welcomes January with an à la carte spread featuring dishes like chicken and waffles (that's a bacon and cheddar waffle with fried chicken and jalapeño maple syrup) and crème brulee French toast. Tack on unlimited mimosas or Bloodies for $25 if you're not quite ready to call it a night. Mandalay Bay, 632-7405.
